Library Scavenger Hunt

To prepare yourself for the research paper, you will go on a brief library scavenger hunt. During your scavenger hunt, you should find the following information:

- the name of the research librarian for your field/major and the hours that person usually works
- the names of five journals used by your field and owned by the UNT library; note both the volumes/years the library carries journal and the locations of the journals
- a list of five Library of Congress subject headings relevant to your major (You will probably need a librarian’s help for these.)

Then, prepare a sheet summarizing the information you found.
